Course objectives	Student's benefits
The "German language" course provides students with instruction on German grammar which will be used during communication, covering topics that will be studied during the semester. Topics will be chosen based on the book "Schritte international1", units 1-3. The four basic skills of language: listening, speaking, reading and writing, but also grammar and vocabulary from the topics of "Schritte international1", will be developed during exercises. This book is separated into units which are organized in topics. Topics are from everyday life. These topics will strengthen the communication skills of students by learning to respond to different communicative situations. To develop listening skills, during the seminar classes (exercises) students will be able to listen to the CD of the book.	After completing this course, the student will be able to: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Write different texts by adhering to writing and structural rules of German;</li> <li>• To read according to the German language rules and understand the texts;</li> <li>• Understand simple conversations and texts;</li> <li>• Learn vocabulary from the "Schritte international1" book.</li> <li>• To know the explained grammar from "Schritte international1", which serves for the purpose of communication.</li> </ul>

Teaching methodology:
The course is conducted through a combination of lectures and seminar classes. Through the method of conversation – working individually, in pairs and in groups. Taking into consideration that the newest teaching methods are based on the principle of communication, this is how the classes will be organized. The book is also based on the same principle. Therefore, the teaching method is student-centered, where they will always be engaged in conversation. During the seminar classes (exercise hours), there will be a different book, where the students will put their knowledge from the lectures into writing and completing the exercises.
