6	Course Description and objectives(Competence)	Albanian Morphology I course (The basic system of Albanian Grammar and Word-formation) is a description and, to some extent, an explanatory account of the grammatical system of modern Albanian structure, with special emphasis on the basic grammatical units. Students will also be introduced to major Albanian word-formation processes, as an independent part of Albanian Grammar, because it is widely accepted that its study plays an important role in language learning. After analyzing unfamiliar words students will find them much easier to remember them, since word bases, prefixes, suffixes and compound is an excellent mnemonic device. The language described is contemporary standard Albanian. To ensure active acquisition of theoretical knowledge, various tasks and exercises are selected from various contemporary Albanian grammar books. Exercises will give after every lecture, in order to illustrate grammar rules by examples which are characteristic and natural. Grammar examples are descriptions of how Albanian words; i.e. they are a guide to help students understand the language, not rules to be memorized.
